Actors are well known on the Cape. The restaurant committee is planning some inviting menus for each evening as follows:

Tuesday—Baked beans, cold meats, oyster salad, rolls, pies, coffee.

Wednesday—Chicken pie supper.

Thursday—Baked beans, cold meat, rolls, pies, coffee.

The restaurant is in charge of Mrs. John W. Marshall, assisted by James Barr, chef, and an able corps of waiters.

If any have not been called upon for contributions of food, the committee will greatly appreciate anything they may care to bring.

There will be a properly rehearsed or "Tommy's Wife" Saturday evening, and a full dress rehearsal Monday evening.

Slight Fire.

An alarm of fire was rung in from 3:05 yesterday afternoon at 3:05 o'clock, caused by a slight fire in J. P. Pooles house on Cleaves street occupied by George R. Pears and family.

Mrs. Pears went to a dark closet for something she needed and took a shifted lamp so as to find the article. In some way the lamp fell and set fire to the oil. She called for help and some one rang the alarm. The first to arrive on the scene were Arthur Gott, Robert Murray, Carl Swan and Lewis R. Pool. They got busy with buckets of water and put out the fire before water was turned on to a line of hose from the hydrant, run out by the C. H. Parsons Hose Company. The fire was extinguished in a few minutes.

FOR SOUR STOMACH

Cuts out soda mints and chalk so extensively used in the old-time "dyspepsia tablets." They are too harsh for even strong stomachs, and often do harm if continuously taken. Dyspepsia tablets are made by experts who understand these things and have combined the best stomach remedies known to physicians—pepsin, bismuth, mint, rhubarb and other carminatives and correctives—into delicious tablets that not only look good but taste good and do good. They quickly relieve sour stomach, nausea, indigestion, heartburn.

KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT POULTRY?

Local Experts Will Tell All About it at Next Riverdale Grange Meeting.

At every meeting of the Riverdale Grange, and in fact all Granges, one hour is set apart and called a "social hour," during which time interesting entertainments, discussions and other functions of a social nature take place. This hour is the most interesting part of the Grange work, affording entertainment and in many instances valuable information for the members.

At the next regular meeting of the Riverdale Grange, next Wednesday evening, the subject for discussion will be "Poultry" and it will be entered into by all of the members of the Grange who are interested in the subject, of whom there are many. The one which was held in 1914 was very interesting indeed, and undoubtedly this will be fully equal if not better than the (which preceded it. Information is freely given, facts and figures are produced to show just what is made or lost in the enterprise. Some members are very enthusiastic over certain varieties of Poultry and others are equally assured that they have the best. In the discussion the merits, good qualities and the imperfections are brought out.

These social hour meetings are as a general thing not open to the public, but it is hoped that at some time in the near future, there may be an open meeting for the general discussion of "Poultry," not only for those who belong to the Grange, but for poultry raisers outside the Grange.

NOTHING 'ROUND THE POINT TODAY

Another day of quiet reigned along the harbor front. The snow storm of the morning which later turned into rain kept the entire fleet of gill netters in, while there were no arrivals or sailings of the sailing fleet.

Yesterday the gill netters landed about 20,000 pounds. Steamer Sawyer only recovered a part of her gear, consequently her fare was smaller than it would otherwise have been. Steamer Mary F. Ruth has gone to the eastward and is fishing off Boon Island.

Today's Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and receipts in detail are:

Sch. Little Fannie, gill netting, 5000 lbs. fresh fish.

Str. Orion, gill netting, 500 lbs. fresh fish.

NEW PIER FISH STORY IS BRIEF

Three shore boats comprised the fleet of arrivals at the Boston fish pier this morning. They were schs. W. M. Goodspeed with 9200 pounds; Yankee, 1400 pounds; Stranger, 2900 pounds.

Prices were the best in many weeks, $6 to $6.25 a hundred pounds being paid for haddock, $6 to $7 for large cod, $3 to $6 for hake and $3 to $3.50 for pollock.

Boston Arrivals and Receipts.

The arrivals and receipts in detail are:

Sch. W. H. Goodspeed, 6000 haddock, 1000 cod, 1000 hake, 1200 pollock.

Sch. Yankee, 400 haddock, 500 cod, 500 hake.

Sch. Stranger, 2000 haddock, 900 cod. Haddock, $6 to $6.25 per cwt.; large cod, $6 to $7; market cod, $4; hake, $3 to $6; pollock, $3 to $3.50.

The St. John's Cod Market.

There has been very little doing in the fish business as between merchant and fisherman this week, but some small lots of dry and talqual shore changed hands at $7.70 and $7.80. Labrador soft cure is quoted at $5.50 for ordinary, with better price for better dried goods, quotes the St. John's N. F. Trade Review. Well cured Labrador Shore is selling from $6.80 to $7, and West India goes at from $3.80 to $4. Codoil has advanced slightly since last week, and the figure this morning is from $82 to $85 per tun for prime goods in iron-bound packages.

The Western fishery has opened very well this season, as far as the inshore voyage is concerned, but the bankers have not yet left the coast. Mr. LeMessurier, assistant collector of customs, had a wire from Burgeo, on Thursday, to the effect that the 80 dories in that vicinity had landed 14 hundred quintals in three days. This is a pretty good showing, as it means an average of nearly six quintals per day per dory. It's an evidence that the fish is on the ground, and if the bait supply holds out the shore fishery for the winter in Burgeo and vicinity, is likely to be a pretty good one.

The Italian fish market, which has been very healthy of late, is likely to be somewhat affected by the disaster, which has lately devastated Naples and vicinity, and business complications are likely to arise to hamper the disposal of cargoes of our fish now at Naples or on the way over. To this writing, none of the local merchants has received any information as to how the position is affected and we must only hope that matters will come out all right.

Going Halibuting.

Sch. Oriole is being fitted for fresh halibuting. Capt. Daniel McDonald will command her.

Provincetown Fishing News.

Sch. Valerie, Capt. Gaspa, shared $13 on the first trip of the season.

The O'Neill boats secured the following catches of flounders:

January 11—L. B. Winsor, 11 bbls.

January 12—Mildred Agnes, 9 bbls.

January 15—Mildred Agnes, 19 bbls.; Verna and Esther, 16 bbls.; L. B. Winsor, 13 bbls.

January 17—Mildred Agnes, 6 bbls.; Verna and Esther, 12 bbls.; L. B. Winsor, 6 bbls.

January 19—Mildred Agnes, 14 bbls.; Verna and Esther, 12 bbls.; L. B. Winsor, 5 bbls.

Schs. Valerie, Mary C. Santos and Eleanor DeCosta shipped their fares to New York and Boston.

Storms Bother Fishermen.

Stormy weather along the coast has seriously hampered the shore fishermen operating out of Halifax. Little or no fishing has been done since Saturday, the storms having prevented the majority of craft from cruising on the banks. The haddocking is now nearing its close. Fares landed during the latter part of last week had a good proportion of cod. A week or so will see the end of the haddocking.

At Channel to Load.

The following message was received this morning from Rose Blanche:

"1400 quintals of fish caught at this port since Monday last, 80 dories averaging 6 quintals each for 3 days. No fishing vessels have arrived as yet. Sch. Elizabeth H. has entered at Channel to load fish (bulk) for Bucksport, Me., for T. R. Nicholson."—St. John's Herald, Jan. 14.

Among the Fleet.

Capt. Nathaniel Greenleaf will start to fit sch. Kineo for fresh halibuting next week.

Capt. Gus Dunskey will begin to fit sch. Volant for a similar trip next week.

Capt. Ben Johnson will fit sch. Hattie L. Trask for a Georges handline trip next week.

Going in the Saladin.

Sch. Saladin, formerly commanded by Capt. John Matheson, will be commanded by Capt. Wallace Parsons in the mackerel fishery south this season.

After Flounders.

Steamer Bessie M. Dugan has gone to Provincetown to engage in flounder fishing.

PEARL OYSTER WORTH $150.

The "pearl-found-in-an-oyster" crop this winter has been unusually large. In a measure it is helping make up for hard times. The latest person to profit by biting into a small fortune is Mrs. Ernest W. Clapp of Athol. While eating breakfast she found a pearl valued at $150. It was sold to a Boston jewelry concern. The pearl is as large as a pea.
